

Cableski Female athlete of the year - 2015

Hanne Straltsova - Belarus

2015 was the year of Hanna Straltsova. As a youth skier she showed her talents year after year, to disappear a little from the competitions due to injuries. This year winning the Cableski overall title in E&A and being second in jump and third in tricks, she proved she is back at the top, ready to take over from the former generation. Give her the chance to participate at more competitions and you will see her at the top of all ranking lists.

Hanna is an overall skier, not just Cableski, she is also a great overall tournament skier and member of the Belarus team for both Cableski and Tournament.

That Hanna was skiing well this year was clear already in July at the Tournament World U-21 Championships, where she won the jump title and took silver in overall. Not too many skiers can show such a palmares at the age of 21.
